' nSynergy and SharePoint allows us to have "a single version of the truth" in one place, and this makes a real difference for us.'

Norske Skog

Company Overview

Norske Skog is a world leading producer of newsprint and magazine paper, with 16 paper mills around the world. The world market for newsprint and magazine paper is about 60 million tonnes, and the group has about 10 per cent and five per cent of these segments respectively. The groups operating revenue in 2007 was approximately NOK 27 billion.

Challenge

Norske Skog has a number of different locations across Australia and New Zealand and information has traditionally been kept by each department and within each location. As a large paper manufacturer, their integrity to safety and policies is of the highest priority.

Solution

nSynergy implemented SharePoint as a solution to assist centralising Norske Skog's documents so that a taxonomy could be in place and these could be easily shared and searched within the organisation. To help ensure smooth operation and communication between the company's different plants and facilities, key documents as well as day-to-day working documents can be shared across different places.

Outcome

Programs were implemented across the IS department and at the Boyer Mill. The IS department has operations in all three geographic locations in Australia, Boyer (Tasmania), Sydney, and Albury (NSW) and Tasman (Kawerau, New Zealand). SharePoint has allowed Norske Skog Australasia to now have all of its documents accessible from a singular, all-access area. nSynergy's customised roll-out has also ensured that only one true version of each document exists, with a safer and more efficient work environment being the end result.

nSynergy supplies collaborative software solutions for a great variety of clients globally. We are deploying SharePoint solutions to companies in a myriad of industries, adding our own customisations and enhancements. We have SharePoint specialists and developers in a number of locations, and can provide a broad range of SharePoint-related services and solutions.
